

ALASKA ANTHROPOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION ANNUAL SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

The Alaska Anthropological Association will offer two graduate (one M.A. student, and one Ph.D. student) scholarships and one undergraduate scholarship for the 2002-2003 academic year. The Association Scholarship Committee reserves the right to withhold one or both awards in the absence of qualified applicants. Each scholarship is $750.

Purpose and Eligibility: These scholarships are designed to assist eligible students in their pursuit of an appropriate degree. Ordinarily the scholarship should be used to underwrite a program consisting of at least eight academic credits. If fewer credits are taken, we require that the student be engaged in full-time work toward a degree. While the number of credits taken is thus somewhat flexible, the student must be formally enrolled at an appropriate institution and be working full-time toward a degree in order to be eligible for student support. [Applicants must be members in good standing of the Alaska Anthropological Association (i.e., current year dues must be paid at or before time of application)] The scholarship may be used at any appropriate institution.

Application Procedure: The primary evaluation criterion will be tangible evidence submitted indicating promise in and commitment to the academic study of anthropology. No special forms are needed to apply, but the following information must be provided:

1. Name, current contact address, and telephone number.
2. Current academic status (year, institution, major).
3. A list of courses in anthropology taken to date, including course title, instructor, institution, and grade (this need not be an official transcript).
4. (OPTIONAL) A list of course titles, instructors, and grades received in courses clearly related to the anthropological interests of the applicant.
5. Names, addresses, and phone numbers (where possible), of two individuals willing to provide references for the applicant. Letters of reference do not have to be directly solicited by the applicant or included with the application.
6. A brief statement of the applicant's personal goals and interests, and intentions with regard to anthropology.

➤ Deadline for Application: To be considered, [applications must be received by the Scholarship Committee by February 15, 2002] Applications should be addressed to: Scholarship Committee, Alaska Anthropological Association, P.O. Box 241686, Anchorage, Alaska 99524-1686. ← A-NOTE

Date of Award and Restrictions on Use: The scholarship winners will be announced at the 2002 annual meeting in Anchorage, Alaska. The award must be used within one year of being granted, and may not be used retroactively. The money will be available after May 15 and will be forwarded to the winners upon receipt of documentation from the registrar of their institution that the student is duly enrolled.
